 - A paint wash is when you dilute paint with water and paint on a surface. This technique is often used to create a background.
 - The Nguni cow assessment done in Grade 4 is an example of Black magic. This is where we coloured a page in using wax crayons. The whole page is then painted using black paint. A toothpick/ sosatie stick was then used to scratch a pattern/drawing. This allowed the white to shine through.
 - This is a technique where a paper is put over a textured surface and you colour over the page picking up the texture of the object beneath it.
