Read the example of how to make pancakes.

Then write instructions on one of the topics given below into your classwork book. Work neatly as you always do in class. Write a 5 point set of instruction on your chosen subject.

Number each step.

Start each new sentence with an imperative/command verb written in orange on a new line.

Then complete the hot chocolate activity.

Read and study this example

Writing Instructions

Section 1

Choose ONE of the three options below and, using the writing process of a mind map, an edited rough draft and a final product, write a practice set of 5 point instructions in your classwork book. Refer to page 65 in your textbook.

Put bait on a fish hook.

Make a sandwich.

Build a campfire.

This is the end of today's lesson. You will do the rest tomorrow.

Section 2

Now copy these instructions into your classwork book and write instructions to teach someone how to make a simple mug of hot chocolate with water and hot chocolate powder.

Be sure to number each sentence and to start each sentence with a command verb/imperative on a new line, e.g. boil, stir, mix, etc. to ensure that each action is clear.

Use the correct writing process: -   mind map

-    rough draft – edited in orange.

-    final instructions

Copy this mind map into your classwork book and fill in the key words.
